

Stephanie Battistin/ Marcil

The week of the 13th to the 16th brought the NCO ski team to the infamous Bromont (slalom)/ Orford (giant slalom) series. In order, starting with the slalom which took place on the 13th and the 14th and the giant slalom on the 15th and the 16th beheld us with one of the steepest, longest, fastest race series in Quebec. NCO was up for the challenge, and did not disappoint!

13th: Opening the series and getting the team pumped and excited was no challenge. Stephanie Marcil came through with a nice 2nd place overall and coming 1st in the J1 category. She was followed by BIG NICK, Sarah Nicol, with a swooping 20th place. As for the men, Mathieu Fournier was awarded with a nice bronze medal in the J1 category.

14th: Knowing the run, carving our skis to the momentum of the course in our sleep, the NCO ski team was ready for another day of slalom at the infamous Bromont slalom. Stephanie Marcil kept up the momentum with another 2nd place, which brought the two top 2 overall goal to an end. NCO is better than that! As for the men, Graham Scott crossed the finish line with a third place in the J1 category. Followed by a 20th place by Troy Mott.

15th: Orford known for its turny courses and terrain was no match for the NCO either. Stephanie Marcil just missed the podium and finished with a 6th overall but still coming 3rd in the J1 category. Stephanie Battistin followed with a 23rd place overall. As for the men, Micheal Skirzynski came through with a 4th place in the J1 category while Troy Mott ended up in 19th. Unfortunately, Eli fell and broke 3 bones beside his vertebraes. We all wish him a speedy recovery and hope to see him on the hill soon. We love you Eli!!!

16th: Ending the series with style, Stephanie Marcil kept up the momentum and finished with a 4th place overall and coming 1st in the J1 category. She was followed by Randa Teshner who finished the race with a 19th place. As for the men, Troy Mott rounded up the series with an 18th place.

We would like to thank the coaches for the great job that they did! We wouldn't have been able to do it without you guys!
